

Self-Advocacy Mentorship for Access to Employment Services and Programs

The Inclusive Employment Advocacy Project equips job-seekers with disabilities to better self-advocate for our equal access to employment services and programs.

Click here to view the Inclusive Employment Advocacy project year one final report.

Click here to view the Inclusive Employment Advocacy project video

In 2018, we are putting the training into practice through a mentorship program. We are recruiting 12 mentor-mentee pairs to approach employment service providers to enhance their services for job-seekers with disabilities. We will also expand our resources and tools to be used by other disability groups, as well as establishing partnerships with community organizations, services, and businesses to enhance their advocacy for employment of people with disabilities. If you meet the characteristics of being a mentor or mentee described below, we welcome your participation in this program.

To be a mentor you are an adult with a disability who is employed full or part-time, or retired and are interested in sharing your wisdom and support with a job seeker with a disability who is between 18 and 50 years old,

To become a mentee, you are a job seeker with a disability (physical and/or medical, sensory- blind or visually impaired, deaf or hard of hearing, mental health conditions) and are between 18 and 50 years old, and interested in receiving support and guidance from experienced employed individuals with disabilities in order to achieve your career goals.

To learn more about this opportunity and sign up to be a mentor or a mentee contact our Project Coordinator, Laura Moll, at (416) 419-9253 or Irmoll@rogers.com

Join AEBC Toronto Chapter for advocacy. Contact us at aebctoronto@gmail.com or by voicemail: 647-947-9022

Sponsored by the City of Toronto