

Research Study: Maternal Disability and Child Health Care

What is the study about?

- We want to know about the strengths and gaps in the health care system in providing child health care to families where a mother has a disability, and your suggestions for improving the child health care experiences of mothers with disabilities and their children.
- What you share will help us improve supports for mothers with disabilities and their families.

You may be able to participate if you:

- Are a service provider (e.g., family physician, paediatrician, nurse, social worker, optometrist, health care receptionist) working in child health care or with mothers with disabilities in Ontario, OR
- Are a decision-maker (e.g., administrator, government official) working in disability or child-related health care policy or administration in Ontario

How will the study work?

- You will be asked to do a 30-minute interview about your experiences working in child health care and/or with mothers with disabilities.
- The interview will be done by telephone or video chat (Zoom) with researchers at a time that works for you.
- You can do the study, or not do the study. The choice you make will not impact any of the services you use now or later.
- If you need any supports or accommodations to participate, these will be provided.

You will receive a $20 gift card to thank you for your time
